PROFILE

I have a degree in economics and one in law, a PhD in Law and one in Energy, I successfully completed an MBA Executive at the Vienna University of Business & Economics (WU), a LL.M. in Business Law and many post-graduate courses in the fields of business law, EU law or construction law.

Since 2004 I have been teaching at Bucharest University of Economic Studies, from the position of assistant professor, lecturer and now as an Associate Professor subjects like: EU Law, Business Law, European Business Law, Competition Law, European Contract Law and Digital Single Market, Contract Law and Construction Law, in Romanian and English.

My research explores legal challenges in digital transformation, harmonisation efforts and dynamism of legislation within the EU framework. I have published in peer-reviewed journals, contributed to international conferences, and led research projects on these topics.

INTERNATIONAL EXPERIENCE / ACADEMIC ENGAGEMENT

November 2024 – Teaching Mobility Erasmus+

LANGUAGES

Romanian – Native

English – Advanced

Spanish – Intermediate

SKILLS

Research – member of several research projects, focused mainly on European Business Law and Digital Law, scientific papers in areas of Company law, European Business law and Construction Law

Teaching – Developing new methods of teaching especially for students learning law in English, trying to explain the national law in a comparative way, taking into account our legal system different from the Anglo-Saxon one and explaining the harmonization process for the creation of the internal market in the areas of European law.

Mentoring – coordinating every year several students in researching for their Bachelor and Dissertation papers, supervising and coordinating students in scientific students' competitions, including International Moots. Coordinating teams in developing new study programmes like: Bachelor in Law (just accredited), Master in European Business Law, postgraduate studies: Tax Law, Criminal Business law, Corporate Compliance

Technical, Analytical and Communication – Next to crafting teaching and research materials (in different forms, from lecture notes to different schemes and structures of knowledge) and communicating them through online platforms (now of the university, but at the beginning of my career I used a personal website) I've been involving the students in different extracurricular projects in which we communicate about on current developments of the studied legal field and I would indicate some like: the newsletters on the latests legal developments we issued on the faculty's website and social media, the special guests sessions in which we develop together the Q&A sessions or even the debate clubs on issues from the field of European Business Law.

I manage, currently, the entire activity of online communication of Faculty of Law, being the main editor. I'm the main editor and coordinator of the national and international conferences' websites, social media channels and printed materials

I'm the coordinator and main moderator of the podcast "Business Law talks"
